

Oct , 2018

Welcome to Zhangjiakou

Zhangjiakou Overview

Geography and Transport

History

Places of interests

Specialty

Zhangjiakou Overview

Zhangjiakou is a prefecture-level city in Hebei Province of North China. It has a population of 4.3 million, and covers 36,947 square kilometers.

Zhangjiakou was historically known to the Europeans as Kalgan until the mid 20th century. This name derives from the Mongolian name of the city, means "gate".

Zhangjiakou has been nicknamed "Beijing's Northern Door" due to its strategic location

Zhangjiakou Overview

Hosting the 2022 Winter Olympic Games.

The environment in Zhangjiakou City is the best in Hebei Province.

张家口空气质量历史趋势图

未来24小时预报 过

优: 良: 轻度污染: 中度污染: 重度

Geography

The entire jurisdiction of Zhangjiakou City extends beyond just central Zhangjiakou (divided into Qiaoxi District and Qiaodong District), but extends also into other outlying areas such as Zhangbei, Yangyuan, Xuanhua and even Huailai County, which is less than 20 km away from Beijing.

The city lies in the northwestern corner of the province and is linked from Datong in Shanxi by the Xuanda Expressway and from Beijing by means of the Jingzhang Expressway. Zhangjiakou is further linked by a freeway to Inner Mongolia which opened on September 7, 2005.

Transportation

- Convenient

Train station is very big and have many to go other city .

Public Bike also have , is really cheap and convenient Zhangjiakou is only 200km away from Beijing .

- Cheap

It only costs 1 yuan wherever you go. If you use the bus card, you only pay 0.8 yuan.

- Fast

Taxis are convenient and inexpensive .

- High Speed Train

HST link with Beijing will be completed in 2019 40 mins journey time.

History

The background features a light green and yellow color palette. It is decorated with numerous falling leaves in shades of green, yellow, and orange. On the right side, there is a large, stylized green tree silhouette. At the base of the tree, a small silhouette of a person is visible, possibly reading or writing. The overall aesthetic is clean and nature-themed.

In August 1211, there raised the Badger's Mount Campaign, Genghis Khan command 90,000 Mongols destroyed 450,000 Jin Dynasty army.

In the 19th century, the town was the seat of a very extensive transit trade. In early autumn long lines of camels would come in from all quarters for the conveyance of the tea chests from Zhangjiakou, the Kalgan, to Kyakhta; and each caravan usually made three journeys in the winter.

Some Russian merchants had permanent residences and warehouses just outside the gate.

In October 1909, Kalgan was connected by railway with Peking. The 1911 Encyclopaedia Britannica noted that, in Kalgan, “the ordinary houses have an unusual appearance, from the fact that they are mostly roofed with earth and become covered with green-sward” and that “on the way to Peking the road passes over a beautiful bridge of seven arches, ornamented with marble figures of animals”

History

In the early 1960s at the height of Sino-Soviet tensions, Zhangjiakou was considered one of the most important cities in China for military strategy reasons.

Zhangjiakou was aptly nicknamed, "Beijing's Northern Door", because whoever controlled Zhangjiakou was in a good position to either attack (in the case of the Soviets) or defend (in the case of the Chinese)
Beijing

Places of interests

Zhangbei Grasslands

Grassland Road

bluesun image

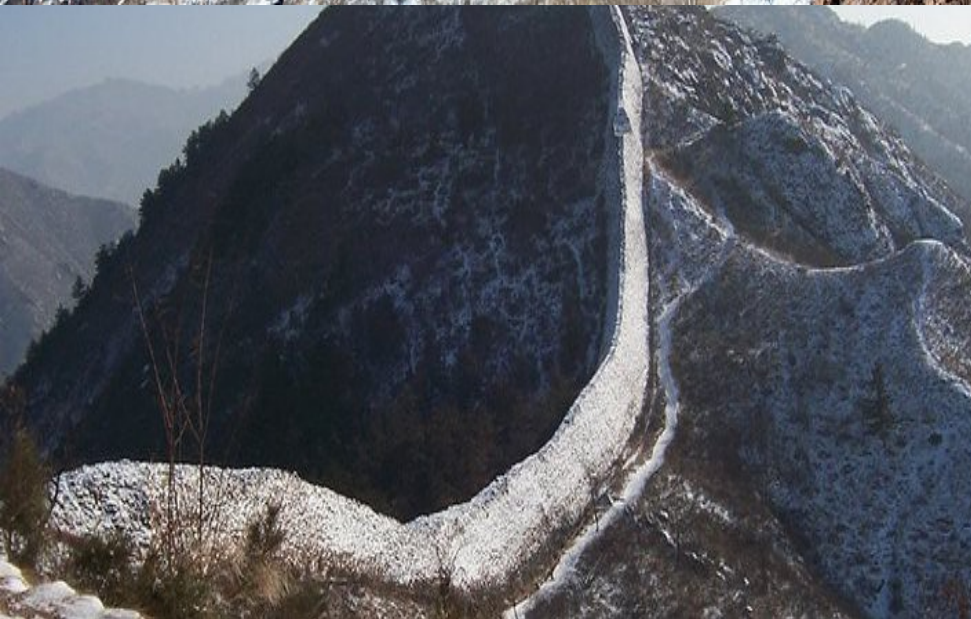

Photo by 3D All Rights Reserved

Nuanquan Old Town

Da Jing Men

Desert Garden

HUA PI LING

Specialty

A corner in downtown Zhangjiakou. The vicinity of Zhangjiakou is rich in coal and iron ore, making it an ideal location for developing iron and steel industry. Apart from metallurgy, the city is home to one of China's most important grape wine industries, with the Great Wall Wine Company being located in Shacheng (沙城镇), Huailai County.

Zhangjiakou is home to Hebei North University. The University is extending its network internationally. Many foreign students are now studying here.

Food

Food

Fruits

 【蓝天小憩】
<http://vivian0rabit.qqzone.qq.com>

 【蓝天小憩】
<http://vivian0rabit.qqzone.qq.com>

Thank you!

